

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE.

A method of making raw sausage by an accelerated maturing process consisting of modifying conventional recipes and basic principles relating to 5 the making of raw sausage by adding between about 5 mg and about 25 mg, preferably 10 mg, of folic acid or folate or both per kg of sausage meat.